Sister Alfrieda Hanus

Sister M. Alfrieda, formerly Mary Hanus of St. Wenceslas Parish, Chicago, died of tuberculosis on December 24, 1905, at the Motherhouse at Joliet in the twenty-fourth year of her age and the sixth of her religious life. Sister Alfrieda possessed an amiable disposition and her congeniality was such as to win the love and esteem of her religious companions as well as her pupils in the schools where during her short career she labored quite successfully. Her health began to fail in the summer of 1905 and up to the time of her death she remained at the Motherhouse.
