Sister Pachomia Orzada

On August 30, 1909, Sister M. Pachomia, formerly Mary Orzada of St. Boniface Parish, Chicago, died at the Motherhouse at Joliet. She had always been a simple, goodhearted and devoted child and she retained these praiseworthy qualities also as a religious, being kind and charitable to her fellow religious by whom she was loved and esteemed. About two years before her death she suffered a paralytic stroke, the effects of which remained up to her death. She died in the thirty-fourth year of her age and the tenth of her religious life.
