

32. Sister Euphemia Ertmer
December 21, 1892

+
+
+ + + + +
+
+
+

Sister Euphemia Ertmer

On the 21st of December, 1892, Sister M. Euphemia formerly Elizabeth Ertmer of Pitcherville, Illinois, died of consumption at the Motherhouse, in the thirty-third year of her age and the fifteenth of her religious life. She had been a dutiful teacher and a faithful religious, and had won the affection of her associates by her simplicity and frankness of character. She was a model of patience and resignation in her last illness and departed from this life quietly and peacefully.